Question #2: In your opinion, what is the most important issue that the Town should address in order to improve the environment and long-term livability of this community?

1. Increase greenspace, manage runoff and promote environmentally responsible building.
2. Increased green spaces.
3. Parks and green space.
4. Increase public green space, sustainable landscape and water practices,
5. A dog park would be terrific.
6. Maintain ... park maintenance
7. Sustainable landscape and public green space
8. I think the single biggest environmental issue facing the world (and therefor us) is climate change and green house gas emissions. Having the town pursue the Maryland Sustainability Certification is a great idea. On a more local level our efforts to preserve/expand open space and maintain the tree canopy are important.
9. Assuring the long-term survival of the Capital Crescent Trail.

Question #3: Being realistic, what do you think are the three most important things the Town might do to help you and your family reduce your negative impacts on the environment?

1. green space expansion.
2. A dog park
3. Acquire green space

Bottom of Question #1: Feel free to provide comments on the topics above or suggestions for additional environmental issues you feel the town might address”

1. reduce amount of impervious area in the town
2. Public open space: Increase of crime, maintenance costs?
3. I think the Town should have open space that invites people to gather and helps the community coalesce. The playground was such a place when my children were younger. A dog park would be a good option.
4. I wish the TOCC would concentrate on assuring citizens that the future of the Capital Crescent Trail is assured, that the tunnel to Bethesda stays open, and that Wisconsin Avenue is safe to cross. This is an unsophisticated survey -- who wouldn't favor 'Better preparedness for climate related emergencies, better street and sidelwalklighting, etc. etc.
5. One way to support public open space would be to oppose the purple line.

Bottom of Question #4: Feel free to tell us other actions you have taken to reduce your environmental impact.
