A New Council Year Begins

The Town Council for 2022-2023 is already at work: Joel Rubin, Vice Mayor; Irene Lane, Treasurer; Joy White, Community Liaison; Rich Brancato, Secretary; and myself as Mayor. I am honored that my colleagues have asked that I serve as Mayor for this upcoming year and trust that the five of us will serve the Town well in managing all the issues before us. Here are some of the key matters that will require our attention:

Farm Women's Market and New Parks: We have been told that the County Executive has approved an amount of funding that will be enough for the parks to be developed, and that he will submit an amendment to the County budget in early June to request this funding. We know that the County Council supports the project, so we expect it will pass. We also understand that the County may request some changes to the conditions we set on our $4 million contribution, but we do not yet know what may be asked of us.

Corso Chevy Chase: The developers will present their updated plan on Thursday evening, June 2 and will proceed to seek the rezoning necessary for this project. We will be deeply engaged to ensure the project is compatible with our Town.

Zimmerman Park Improvements: We are currently seeking permits for the redevelopment plan approved by the last Town Council. We expect construction to begin by spring of next year.

Purple Line: We will be monitoring construction when the project restarts this summer.

Public Safety: We are seeking improved signalization at the East West Highway crosswalk at Maple Avenue as well as considering other improvements in Town, such as more LED stop signs.

Zoning Changes: The County Council may consider permitting multifamily housing in neighborhoods zoned for single family homes. If they do, we will actively engage with Town residents in formulating our position and sharing it with County officials.

We look forward to working on these -- and many other -- issues, with you and on your behalf.

– Mayor Barney Rush

Volunteers Needed for Town Committees & Boards

Are you a new resident who is interested in parks, cut-through traffic, or special events? Are you a resident concerned about tree conservation, stormwater management, or potential housing changes? The Town Council encourages you to volunteer for a Town committee, board, or commission. No prior experience is necessary, just a willingness to spend one hour per week, on average, extending your talents, working with fellow residents, and improving our community.

- Community Relations: Encourages a strong sense of neighborliness through community activities, events, and communications.
- Land Use: Considers and recommends solutions to issues and concerns relating to land use and construction in the Town. Advises the Council on how to control development and redevelopment.
- Long-Range Planning: Identifies emerging issues and trends. Monitors county and state activities likely to impact the Town.
- Public Services: Addresses traffic and pedestrian safety, parking, water run-off, utilities, and infrastructure. Advocates for high-quality services and promotes a safe environment for residents.
- Elections Board (one vacancy): Oversees all Town elections, including making appropriate provisions for nominations, approving ballots, and supervising the polls.
- Ethics Commission (one vacancy): Receives, verifies, and maintains all financial disclosure forms required by the State of Maryland.
- Water Board (one vacancy): Hears requests from property owners who have had a water drainage plan denied by the Town.

If you are interested in volunteering, please email [townoffice@townofchevy Chase.org](mailto:townoffice@townofchevy Chase.org) and include a few sentences about why you would like to serve on a particular body. The Council extends a special thanks to those who have volunteered over the past year. The dedication of your time and talents provides an invaluable resource to the Town and continues to strengthen and improve our community.

TOCC Plant Invaders: English Ivy

One of the most common invasive plants around is English Ivy. It's a problem because:

- The vine weakens and kills trees by engulfing branches and blocking sunlight. That prevents trees from making the food, via photosynthesis, needed for growth and health.
- Heavy vines and their increased air resistance make infested trees more likely to topple in high winds, heavy rains, and ice storms.
- It spreads voraciously on the ground, and when allowed to climb, produces berries that are transported into neighboring yards and forests. There they crowd out native plants and creatures that depend upon them.
- English ivy can be home to unwelcome wildlife, including rats, slugs, snails, mosquitoes, and ticks.

What to do:

- Prevent it from climbing trees. Cut the vines at the base. Pulling vines off can damage a tree so let them die and fall off naturally. If ivy's climbing public trees, let Town staff know.
- Herbicides don't readily penetrate the waxy barrier on English Ivy leaves. The best way to get rid of it is by pulling it up. Monitor for new growth from vines that were missed.
- Don't help it spread. It should not go in your compost bin, in your yard-waste bucket, or on your landscaper's truck. Bag it in plastic and send it out with regular trash.
- Plant something else! Native alternatives are best.
